

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

Bangladesh is in a position today to champion a revolution in the micro finance industry, a revolution that necessitates the use of technology and innovation. Such a revolution would push the microfinance industry into the next generation. Just as the country broke away from the tradition that banking is only for the privileged and rich people, it can once again break away from the tradition that technology and innovation is only for the sophisticated and rich industries. Micro finance is a major industry in Bangladesh and currently it serves more than 26 million borrowers. With technology and innovation, however, micro finance institutions in Bangladesh could serve more people who do not have access to finance using branchless banking.

They could improve access to financial services with the help of mobile banking and automated teller machines- innovations that can be rolled out even in rural areas. They could expand their product and service offerings to include savings, insurance, money transfers and remittances. In addition, micro finance institutions could make their day-to-day operations more efficient by allowing institutional headquarters to have up-to-date information about work being done in branch offices and liaising with loan officers spread throughout the country. Micro finance institutions can do so at a lower cost without fully overhauling their operations and thus save money to help their financial bottom line.

A) What tradition did banks in Bangladesh break away from?

B) In What aspect of its operation can microfinance institutions bring about a revolutionary changes?

C) How can microfinance institutions serve greater number of people?

D) What is meant by the expression 'to help their financial bottom line'?

E) What should be the most suitable title for the passage?

A) What tradition did banks in Bangladesh break away from?

At the very beginning of banking system, it was mainly used in favor of the people who belong to well-off family. After that banks took themselves away from this well-established tradition.

B) In What aspect of its operation can microfinance institutions bring about a revolutionary changes?

arena
for example, for instance such as

According to passage, there are two fields, for instance, technology and innovation, which can help to bring a revolutionary changes in banking sector of BD.

C) How can microfinance institutions serve greater number of people?

D) What is meant by the expression to help their financial bottom line?

net income
profit final line

E) What should be the most suitable title for the passage?

Question 1-4

Instruction: Answer the Questions based on the following passage.

An ecosystem is a group of animals and plants living in a specific region and interacting with one another and with their physical environment. Ecosystems include physical and chemical components, such as soils, water, and nutrients that support the organisms living there. These organisms may range from large animals to microscopic bacteria. Ecosystems also can be thought of as the interactions among all organisms in a given habitat; for instance, one species may serve as food for another. People are part of the ecosystems where they live and work. Human activities can harm or destroy local ecosystems unless actions such as land development for housing or businesses are carefully planned to conserve and sustain the ecology of the area. An important part of ecosystem management involves finding ways to protect and enhance economic and social well being while protecting local ecosystems.

01. What is the main idea of the passage?

- a. An ecosystem is a community that includes animals, plants, and microscopic bacteria.
- b. Human activities can do great damage to local ecosystems, so human communities should be cautiously planned.
- c. In managing the ecology of an area, it is important to protect both human interests and the interests of other members of local ecosystems.
- d. People should remember that they are a part of the ecosystems where they live and work.
- e. None of the above

02. Which of the following best sums up activities within an ecosystem?

a. Predator-prey relationships

b. Interactions among all members

c. Human-animal interactions

d. Human relationship with the environment

e. None of the above

03. An ecosystem can most accurately be defined as a:

- a. Geographical area
- b. Community
- c. Locality
- d. Protected environment
- e. None of the above

While talking to her mother,
I found
some solutions

04. Which of the following statements is not directly proposed or supported in the passage?

- a. Chemical components are also a part of the ecosystem.
- b. Ecosystem represents the interactions among all organisms, big or small, in an area.
- c. Species within an ecosystem are dependent on each other for food.
- d. Actions need to be taken to sustain and conserve the ecology of an area.
- e. Protecting local ecosystems is more important than economic well being of humans.

Mentors

* Math

* English

017778528709

Math Eng

OK