An Airport : Have you ever visited an airport ? It is often a very exciting place. If you are ever near an airport, why not go inside ? You do not have to be a passenger to go inside of an airport. Sometimes you may have to pay to enter an airport but it is always a small amount.

An airport is usually full of people. Some of them will be passengers. Some just arrived by plane and they are now waiting for a car or a bus or a train to take them home. Others are waiting to go on planes that will take them to another city or another country. They are buying books to read on the plane or talking to their friends or relatives. Many of the people at an airport are not passengers. They have come to meet passengers who are arriving or to say goodbye to friends or relatives who are leaving.

There is usually a place at an airport where you can see the planes landing or taking off. You often have to pay to go there. When you look out over the airport, you will see a number of landing strips which is pointed different directions. This is because planes have to take off and land into the wind.

You may see one plane moving towards a runway. Another is at the end of the runway, waiting to take off. Another plane is just taking off. It moves faster and faster until, suddenly, the wheels leave the ground and the plane begins to climb. As it rises, you see the wheels disappearing inside the plane.

Above the airport, other planes may be circling in the air. They are waiting for their turn to land. There must be someone to control all these planes. Someone has to tell each plane when to take off, when to land and when to wait. If you look around the airport, you will see the control tower. There is a tall building with very large windows. The men inside who control the planes. They work very hard. They have to be very careful. If they make a mistake, planes may crash and people may be killed.

Healthy Eating : We have not yet talked about the most important thing - food. If we want to be healthy, we must have enough food. It must eat clean food which has been properly cooked. It must be the right kind of food. Many people have enough food. We know when we need to eat because, we feel hungry. Then, if we eat a plate of rice, we do not feel hungry. We have eaten enough food. But have we eaten the right kind of food ? Bread is good for us. It helps us to work. It keeps us warm when the weather is cold. Meat, fish, eggs and milk are all very good for us. They help us to grow. They keep us healthy. We must eat these kinds of food every day.

Traffic : Traffic means everything and everybody using the roads. Trams and buses that take people to school or to work are traffic. Cars and motor-cycles are traffic. Lorries carrying goods from ships or from factories to the shops are traffic. People riding bicycles on the roads are creating traffic. You are a part of the traffic of the city when you walk along the pavement or across the road. Today, more and more people live in cities. As a result, there is a great deal of traffic and usually not enough roads, and many of roads are too narrow. That is why there are many accidents. In cities all over the world, thousands of people die or are hurt in traffic accidents. Of course, traffic accidents happen outside cities in the countryside, but there is not so much traffic so there are not so many accidents.

Why do accidents happen ? Some people say that, it is the fault of the people who use the roads. That means everybody ! If everyone is careful, there will be no accidents. What do you think ?

Some people say that we must improve our roads. ('improve' means make better') We can improve roads by making them wider and straighter. Accidents often happen on narrow roads or on corners. Drivers cannot see around corners. They cannot see other traffic coming towards them. Sometimes, they crash into each other. When roads are improved, corners are changed, the roads do not turn quickly, it bends slowly. Do you know what a 'bend' is ? Your teacher will draw one on the board. Accidents often happen when one road crosses another.

Sometimes roads do not cross. Instead, one road goes high above another road. If you are in a bus or a car, you seem to be flying over the road below. This is called a 'fly-over'. One road flies over the other Road Safety : We all use the roads. We walk on them. We walk along the pavement and we walk across the roads. We are Pedestrians. Careless pedestrians can cause accidents. Accidents often happen when people cross the roads. Here are some advices. Read it carefully.

Footbridges And Subways : Always use a footbridge or subway if you can. You cannot be hit by a car when you go over or under the road or Crossing the road. Here are some rules. Remember and obey them.

1. First find a safe place to cross, then stop.
2. Stand on the pavement near the edge.
3. Look all around for traffic and listen. 4. If traffic is coming, let
5. When there is no traffic near, walk straight across the road.
6. Look and listen for traffic while you are crossing.

it pass. Look all around again.

Pedestrian Crossing : Always use a pedestrian crossing if there is one. When you are on a pedestrian Crossing, cars must stop. But they cannot stop at once ! You must give them time to stop. Remember, that cars take longer to stop if the road is wet. Go straight across. Stay on the pedestrian crossing.

Traffic Light Signals : You must always obey traffic light signals. If the light is red, do not cross. Wait until the light changes to green. Look to see if the road is clear. Then cross.

Walking Along The Road : Always use the pavement or footpath if there is one. If there is no pavement, walk on the right side of the road. Keep close to the side. Don't run on the road. Don't play on the road.

If You are Using a bus Remember :

1. Do not try to get in until the passengers have got off.
2. Do not get off until the bus has stopped.
3. After you get off, do not try to cross the road until the bus has moved off. (Many people are hit by car when they step out into the road from behind a bus.)

Police Signs : You must obey the signs made by a policeman. If you do not, two things may happen. You may be hurt. You may be punished ! If you do not obey a policeman, You are breaking the law. People who break the law can be given punishment.

Rain : Be very careful when it is raining. Many accidents can happen then. People are in a hurry because they do not want to get wet. They rush across the road without looking. They often can not see clearly because they hold umbrella in front of them. Remember that, cars can take longer to stop when the road is wet. When it is raining, we must be more careful, not less careful !

Safety in The Home : Many people are hurt or killed every year on the roads and streets of big cities. But accidents can happen indoors, too. Many young children are accidentally hurt while playing in their homes. Sometimes, she is careless. She puts a pot of hot water on a table. A little child can reach it. Then she goes out of the room. The little child reaches up and drags the pot towards him. The hot water spills over him. The mother hears the cry of pain and rushes into the room, but it is too late. Crying with pain, the child is taken to hospital in an ambulance. Accidents like this ought not to happen.

We should be more careful. Pots and pans containing hot water, or other hot liquids, should not be put in the reach of small children. Small children ought not to be left alone. Many other accidents happen. Kerosene, heaters are sometimes knocked over by children playing in the home. The kerosene spills out of the heater and burns. Soon the whole flat starts burning. A heater should be put in a safe place.

All things which can cut are dangerous. Sharp knives and scissors should be out away put of reach of children. Small children should not be allowed to play with them. when you are using a knife or a pair of scissors, you should not hold them in your hand while your are talking. You may accidentally push.

Electricity is always dangerous. Electricity can keep us warm and it can cook our food but it can also kill us ! You should never touch any electric heater or wire if it is switched on. Switch it off first.

Look at the picture. The little boy is behaving very stupidly. He is pushing something into the hole. What has happened ? He has been given a big fright ! Perhaps he has been badly hurt. He might have to go to hospital.

Medicine makes us better when we are ill. But if we take the wrong medicine, it can make us ill, or even kill us. Sometimes grown-up people are careless. They leave medicine in places where children can reach it. The children find it and swallow it. Then they fall very ill. Perhaps they die. Grown-ups should put medicine away. Children should not put things in their mouths. They should ask their father or mother first.

People (grown-ups and children) are often get hurt when they fall over. The skins of bananas, oranges and other fruits are very slippery. You should not throw them on to the ground. If you do, someone may step on them and slip. They may break a leg or an arm.

Sometimes, people leave boxes or other things in drak passages. People walk through there and do not see the boxes. They trip over them. There has been another accident ! Do you help to cause accidents ? Do you do any of these things ? Do you try to stop accidents ?

Swimming in Safety

What are the people in the picture doing ? They are swimming happily in the sea. They are enjoying with themselves ! They are having a lot of fun ! All of us can get a lot of enjoyment and fun in the same way. We may not live near the sea but there is usually a public swimming-pool or public swimming-bath that we can use. Many beaches and all public pools and baths have life-guards to look after the swimmers (public means that they are for everyone). We can swim and bath without any risk of drowning. But I am sorry to say that, every year people drown. Why is this ? What can we do about it ? Here are some things you should do.

1. Learn to swim. This is the most important thing. Swimming is not difficult. Anyone can learn. The best place to learn is in a swimming pool, where there are no waves. Learn to float first. Did you know that everyone floats in the water ? If you lie on the water, you will not sink. You float ! People sink when they become frightened. Then they swallow water.

If you keep calm, you will not snik. Don't be afraid to try !

2. Never go swimming alone. Go with some friends. If one gets into difficulty, the others can help him.

3. Always swim in shallow water. Do not swim in deep water. Always swim in water that is shallow enough for you to stand up.

4. Do not stay in the water when you are tired. Swimming can be tiring. Accidents can happen when you are tired.

5. Never swim when a red flag is on the beach. This means that, it is dangerous to swim. The waves may not look very big but the sea may be dangerous.

6. Do not swim after a big meal. People who swim when their stomachs are full of food often become ill.

7. If you get into any difficulty in the water, keep calm ! Most people drown because they become frightened. Remember that, everyone can float !

8. If one of your friends gets into difficulty, keep calm ! Decide the best way to help him. If you cannot reach him, there are life-guards on the beach. They know how to save people. Fetch them quickly !

Motivational and Inspiring Short Stories About Life

1. Everyone Has a Story in Life

A 24 year old boy seeing out from the train's window shouted...

"Dad, look the trees are going behind!"

Dad smiled and a young couple sitting nearby, looked at the 24 yearold's childish behavior with pity, suddenly he again exclaimed...

"Dad, look the clouds are running with us!"

The couple couldn't resist and said to the old man...

"Why don't you take your son to a good doctor?" The old man smiled and said... "I did and we are just coming from the hospital, my son was blind from birth, he just got his eyes today."

Every single person on the planet has a story. Don't judge people before you truly know them. The truth might surprise you.

2. Shake off Your Problems

A man's favorite donkey falls into a deep precipice. He can't pull it out no matter how hard he tries. He therefore decides to bury it alive.

Soil is poured onto the donkey from above. The donkey feels the load, shakes it off, and steps on it. More soil is poured.

It shakes it off and steps up. The more the load was poured, the higher it rose. By noon, the donkey was grazing in green pastures.

After much shaking off (of problems) And stepping up (learning from them), One will graze in GREEN PASTURES.

3. The Elephant Rope

As a man was passing the elephants, he suddenly stopped, confused by the fact that these huge creatures were being held by only a small rope tied to their front leg. No chains, no cages. It was obvious that the elephants could, at anytime, break away from their bonds but for some reason, they did not.

He saw a trainer nearby and asked why these animals just stood there and made no attempt to get away.

"Well," trainer said, "when they are very young and much smaller we use the same size rope to tie them and, at that age, it's enough to hold them. As they grow up, they are conditioned to believe they cannot break away. They believe the rope can still hold them, so they never try to break free."

The man was amazed. These animals could at any time break free from their bonds but because they believed they couldn't, they were stuck right where they were.

Like the elephants, how many of us go through life hanging onto a belief that we cannot do something, simply because we failed at it once before?

Failure is part of learning; we should never give up the struggle in life.

4. Colonel Sanders | Kentucky Fried Chicken

Once, there was an older man, who was broke, living in a tiny house and owned a beat up car. He was living off of $99 social security checks. At 65 years of age, he decide things had to change. So he thought about what he had to offer. His friends raved about his chicken recipe. He decided that this was his best shot at making a change. He left Kentucky and traveled to different states to try to sell his recipe. He told restaurant owners that he had a mouthwatering chicken recipe. He offered the recipe to them for free, just asking for a small percentage on the items sold. Sounds like a good deal, right? Unfortunately, not to most of the restaurants. He heard NO over 1000 times. Even after all of those rejections, he didn't give up. He believed his chicken recipe was something special. He got rejected 1009 times before he heard his first yes.

With that one success Colonel Hartland Sanders changed the way Americans eat chicken. Kentucky Fried Chicken, popularly known as KFC, was born.

Remember, never give up and always believe in yourself in spite of rejection.

5. The Obstacle in our Path

There once was a very wealthy and curious king. This king had a huge boulder placed in the middle of a road. Then he hid nearby to see if anyone would try to remove the gigantic rock from the road. The first people to pass by were some of the king's wealthiest merchants and courtiers. Rather than moving it, they simply walked around it. A few loudly blamed the King for not maintaining the roads. Not one of them tried to move the boulder. Finally, a peasant came along. His arms were full of vegetables. When he got near the boulder, rather than simply walking around it as the others had, the peasant put down his load and tried to move the stone to the side of the road. It took a lot of effort but he finally succeeded. The peasant gathered up his load and was ready to go on his way when he saw a purse lying in the road where the boulder had been. The peasant opened the purse. The purse was stuffed full of gold coins and a note from the king. The king's note said the purse's gold was a reward for moving the boulder from the road. The king showed the peasant what many of us never understand: every obstacle presents an opportunity to improve our condition.

6. The Group of Frogs

As a group of frogs were traveling through the woods, two of them fell into a deep pit. When the other frogs crowded around the pit and saw how deep it was, they told the two frogs that they're was no hope left for them. However, the two frogs decided to ignore what the others were saying and they proceeded to try and jump out of the pit. Despite their efforts, the group of frogs at the top of the pit were still saying that they should just give up. That they would never make it out. Eventually, one of the frogs took heed to what the others were saying and he gave up, falling down to his death. The other frog continued to jump as hard as he could. Again, the crowd of frogs yelled at him to stop the pain and just die. He jumped even harder and finally made it out. When he got out, the other frogs said, "Did you not hear us?" The frog explained to them that he was deaf. He thought they were encouraging him the entire time.

Moral of the story: People's words can have a big effect on other's lives. Think about what you say before it comes out of your mouth. It might just be the difference between life and death.

7. Meaningless Goals

A farmer had a dog who used to sit by the roadside waiting for vehicles to come around. As soon as one came he would run down the road, barking and trying to overtake it. One day a neighbor asked the farmer "Do you think your dog is ever going to catch a car?" The farmer replied, "That is not what bothers me. What bothers me is what he would do if he ever caught one." Many people in life behave like that dog who is pursuing meaningless goals.

Life is hard by the yard,
but by the inch,
it's a cinch.

8. A Pound Of Butter

There was a farmer who sold a pound of butter to the baker. One day the baker decided to weigh the butter to see if he was getting a pound and he found that he was not. This angered him and he took the farmer to court. The judge asked the farmer if he was using any measure. The farmer replied, "Your Honor, I am primitive. I don't have a proper measure, but I do have a scale." The judge asked, "Then how do you weigh the butter?" The farmer replied "Your Honor, long before the baker started buying butter from me, I have been buying a pound loaf of bread from him. Every day when the baker brings the bread, I put it on the scale and give him the same weight in butter. If anyone is to be blamed, it is the baker."

What is the moral of the story? We get back in life what we give to others. Whenever you take an action, ask yourself this question: Am I giving fair value for the wages or money I hope to make? Honesty and dishonesty become a habit. Some people practice dishonesty and can lie with a straight face. Others lie so much that they don't even know what the truth is anymore. But who are they deceiving? Themselves

9. Frog in a Milk Pail

A frog was hopping around a farmyard, when it decided to investigate the barn. Being somewhat careless, and maybe a little too curious, he ended up falling into a pail half-filled with fresh milk. As he swam about attempting to reach the top of the pail, he found that the sides of the pail were too high and steep to reach. He tried to stretch his back legs to push off the bottom of the pail but found it too deep. But this frog was determined not to give up, and he continued to struggle. He kicked and squirmed and kicked and squirmed, until at last, all his churning about in the milk had turned the milk into a big hunk of butter. The butter was now solid enough for him to climb onto and get out of the pail!

The Moral of The Story, "Never Give Up!"

10. Two Apples

A lovely little girl was holding two apples with both hands. Her mom came in and softly asked her little daughter with a smile: my sweetie, could you give your mom one of your two apples?

The girl looked up at her mom for some seconds, then she suddenly took a quick bite on one apple, and then quickly on the other. The mom felt the smile on her face freeze. She tried hard not to reveal her disappointment.

Then the little girl handed one of her bitten apples to her mom, and said: mommy, here you are. This is the sweeter one.

No matter who you are, how experienced you are, and how knowledgeable you think you are, always delay judgment. Give others the privilege to explain themselves. What you see may not be the reality. Never conclude for others.

11. Burning Desire is the Secret to Success

A young man asked Socrates the secret to success. Socrates told the young man to meet him near the river the next morning. They met. Socrates asked the young man to walk with him towards the river. When the water got up to their neck, Socrates took the young man by surprise and ducked him into the water. The boy struggled to get out but Socrates was strong and kept him there until the boy started turning blue. Socrates pulled his head out of the water and the first thing the young man did was to gasp and take a deep breath of air. Socrates asked, "What did you want the most when you were there?" The boy replied, "Air." Socrates said, "That is the secret to success. When you want success as badly as you wanted the air, then you will get it." There is no other secret.

Moral of the short story: A burning desire is the starting point of all accomplishment. Just like a small fire cannot give much heat, a weak desire cannot produce great results.

12. Life is Short, and It is Up To you to Make It Sweet.

It was the coldest winter ever. Many animals died because of the cold. The porcupines, realizing the situation, decided to group together to keep warm. This way they covered & protected themselves; but the quills of each one wounded their closest companions. After a while, they decided to distance themselves one from the other and they began to die, alone & frozen. So they had to make a choice: either accept the quills of their companions or disappear from the Earth. Wisely, they decided to go back to being together. They learned to live with the little wounds caused by the close relationship with their companions in order to receive the heat that came from the others. This way they were able to survive. The best relationship is not the one that brings together perfect people, but when each individual learns to live with the imperfections of others & can admire the other person's good qualities. Moral of the short story: Life is short, and it is up to you to make it sweet.

13. The Language of Silence

A 100 years old grand old man saw his grandson having a heated discussion with his wife. He asked his grandson, "Why do you raise your voice when you are angry with your wife?"

Grandson: That is because I lose patience and that is why I raise my voice.

Grandpa: But, your wife is near to you only. She can hear you even when you say the same sentence in a calm manner. Why do you have to raise your voice?

Grandson: Because when I raise my voice, my voice is heard and I also let out the steam by raising my voice.

Grandpa: That is not the exact reason my dear grandson. The reason is this, when you are angry with your wife, your heart moves away from her heart. So, even when both of you are physically close to each other, you feel that you are far away from one another and hence raise your voice.

Grandson: If that is the reason for raising the voice, what do we do when we are in love?

Grandpa: When two people are in love, their hearts are close to each other. Even if you whisper softly, you both can hear very clearly. At such times one can communicate with their loved ones even through the language of silence.

14. Life is a Gift

There was a blind girl who hated herself just because she was blind. She hated everyone, except her loving boyfriend. He was always there for her. She said that if she could only see the world, she would marry her boyfriend.

One day, someone donated a pair of eyes to her and then she could see everything, including her boyfriend. Her boyfriend asked her, "now that you can see the world, will you marry me?"

The girl was shocked when she saw that her boyfriend was blind too, and refused to marry him. The boy walked away, and later he wrote a letter to her saying:

"Just take care of my eyes dear."

This is how most of human brains behave after a change in status. Only few remember what life was before, and who's always been there even in the most painful situations.

In a world filled with hatred, there are very few people who truly care for fellow beings! Always keep them happy.

Moral of the short story:

Life is a gift - Live it, Enjoy it, Celebrate it, and Fulfill it.

15. Take Care of Your Parents.

Pencil: I'm sorry.

Eraser: For what?

Pencil: I'm sorry, you get hurt because of me. Whenever I make a mistake, you're always there to erase it.

But as you make my mistakes vanish, you lose a part of yourself and get smaller and smaller each time.
Eraser: That's true, but I don't really mind. You see, I was made to do this, I was made to help you whenever you do something wrong, even though one day I know I'll be gone. I'm actually happy with my job. So please, stop worrying, I will not be happy if I see you sad.

Reflection:

"Our Parents are just like the eraser, and we are the pencil. They're always there for their children, cleaning up their mistakes. Sometimes along the way they get hurt and become smaller (older and eventually pass on).

Moral: Take care of your Parents, treat them with kindness and most importantly love them."

16. Where There's a Will There's a way!

An old farmer wrote a letter to his innocent son in prison "This year I'm unable to plant potatoes because I can't dig the ground. I know if you were here you would've helped me."

Son Replied: "You idiot dad, don't dig the ground, I have hidden the guns there." The Police read the letter, next day the ground was dug by the police, searched for guns but nothing was found.

Son wrote again: Dad, the ground is now been dug up, you can now plant your potatoes, its the best I could do from here. Love you

Moral: Where there's a will, there is always a way!

17. A Story of Helping Others.

After the death of my son, someone wrote on his online guest book about how he had helped an elderly couple who had lost their home during a hurricane. He helped them gather as many of their belongings as he could from the twisted metal. This person told how they would always remember my son riding his bike down to their trailer for two days and only stopping long enough to have his hand bandaged, and when offered money he turned it down. I am only sorry that I learned this story after he died at the age of 20. I could learn a lot from him.

18. A Story About Being Kind or Being Right.

A patient with a dirty wound and wriggling maggots was brought to Emergency. The wound had pus and was fucking foul smelling.

I had two options.

To be kind. I could have been gentle as a river to that man's wound. Less manipulation. Less pain to the patient.

To be right. Wash it thoroughly. Drain all the pus. Drop hydrogen peroxide. Wash again. This would cause him immense pain.

So, I choose to be right.

Right is mostly painful. Seldom accepted. Less appreciation. Long term benefits are plenty.

It requires courage.

Right courage should flow.

However, being right doesn't always apply in almost all the cases, you should judge things based on how they appear.

19. The Important Things in Life

A philosophy professor stood before his class with some items on the table in front of him. When the class began, wordlessly he picked up a very large and empty mayonnaise jar and proceeded about 2 inches in diameter.

He then asked the students if the jar was full. They agreed that it was.

So, the professor then picked up a box of pebbles and poured them into the jar. He shook the jar lightly.

The pebbles, of course, rolled into the open areas between the rocks. He then asked the students again if the jar was full? They agreed it was.

The professor picked up a box of sand and poured it into the jar. Of course, the sand filled up the remaining open areas of the jar.

He then asked once more if the jar was full. The students responded with a unanimous "Yes."

"Now," said the professor, "I want you to recognize that this jar represents your life. The rocks are the important things - your family, your partner, your health, your children - things that if everything else was lost and only they remained, your life would still be full. The pebbles are the other things that matter - like your job, your house, your car. The sand is everything else, the small stuff."

"If you put the sand into the jar first," he continued, "there is no room for the pebbles or the rocks. The same goes for your life. If you spend all your time and energy on the small stuff, you will never have room for the things that are important to you. Pay attention to the things that are critical to your happiness. Play with your children. Take your partner out dancing. There will always be time to go to work, clean the house, give a dinner party, or fix the disposal."

"Take care of the rocks first - the things that really matter. Set your priorities. The rest is just sand." to fill it with rocks,

20. Face Difficulties Positively.

This parable is told of a farmer who owned an old mule. The mule fell into the farmer's well. The farmer heard the mule praying or whatever mules do when they fall into wells.

After carefully assessing the situation, the farmer sympathized with the mule, but decided that neither the mule nor the well was worth the trouble of saving. Instead, he called his neighbors together, told them what had happened, and enlisted them to help haul dirt to bury the old mule in the well and put him out of his misery.

Initially the old mule was hysterical! But as the farmer and his neighbors continued shoveling and the dirt hit his back, a thought struck him. It suddenly dawned on him that every time a shovel load of dirt landed on his back, HE WOULD SHAKE IT OFF AND STEP UP!

This he did, blow after blow. "Shake it off and step up... shake it off and step up... shake it off and step up!" He repeated to encourage himself. No matter how painful the blows, or how distressing the situation seemed, the old mule fought panic and just kept right on SHAKING IT OFF AND STEPPING UP!

It wasn't long before the old mule, battered and exhausted, stepped triumphantly over the wall of that well! What seemed like it would bury him actually helped him ... all because of the manner in which he handled his adversity.

THAT'S LIFE! If we face our problems and respond to them positively, and refuse to give in to panic, bitterness, or self-pity.

21. The Cookie Thief.

A woman was waiting at an airport one night, with several long hours before her flight. She hunted for a book in the airport shops, bought a bag of cookies and found a place to drop.

She was engrossed in her book but happened to see, that the man sitting beside her, as bold as could be, grabbed a cookie or two from the bag in between, which she tried to ignore to avoid a scene.

So she munched the cookies and watched the clock, as the gutsy cookie thief diminished her stock. She was getting more irritated as the minutes ticked by, thinking, "If I wasn't so nice, I would blacken his eye." With each cookie she took, he took one too, when only one was left, she wondered what he would do. With a smile on his face, and a nervous laugh, he took the last cookie and broke it in half.

He offered her half, as he ate the other, she snatched it from him and thought... oooh, brother. This guy has some nerve and he's also rude, why he didn't even show any gratitude!
She had never known when she had been so galled, and sighed with relief when her flight was called. She gathered her belongings and headed to the gate, refusing to look back at the thieving ingrate. She boarded the plane, and sank in her seat, then she sought her book, which was almost complete. As she reached in her baggage, she gasped with surprise, there was her bag of cookies, in front of her eyes. If mine are here, she moaned in despair, the others were his, and he tried to share. Too late to apologize, she realized with grief, that she was the rude one, the ingrate, the thief.

22. Let Go of Your Stresses.

A psychologist walked around a room while teaching stress management to an audience. As she raised a glass of water, everyone expected they'd be asked the "half empty or half full" question. Instead, with a smile on her face, she inquired: "How heavy is this glass of water?"

Answers called out ranged from 8 oz. to 20 oz.

She replied, "The absolute weight doesn't matter. It depends on how long I hold it. If I hold it for a minute, it's not a problem. If I hold it for an hour, I'll have an ache in my arm. If I hold it for a day, my arm will feel numb and paralyzed. In each case, the weight of the glass doesn't change, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it becomes."

She continued, "The stresses and worries in life are like that glass of water. Think about them for a while and nothing happens. Think about them a bit longer and they begin to hurt. And if you think about them all day long, you will feel paralyzed - incapable of doing anything."

It's important to remember to let go of your stresses. As early in the evening as you can, put all your burdens down. Don't carry them through the evening and into the night. Remember to put the glass down.

23. Believe in Yourself.

There may be days when you get up in the morning and things aren't the way you had hoped they would be. That's when you have to tell yourself that things will get better. There are times when people disappoint you and let you down. But those are the times when you must remind yourself to trust your own judgments and opinions, to keep your life focused on believing in yourself. There will be challenges to face and changes to make in your life, and it is up to you to accept them. Constantly keep yourself headed in the right direction for you. It may not be easy at times, but in those times of struggle you will find a stronger sense of who you are.

So, when the days come that are filled with frustration and unexpected responsibilities, remember to believe in yourself and all you want your life to be.

Because the challenges and changes will only help you to find the goals that you know are meant to come true for you.

Keep Believing in Yourself!

24. A Glass of Water.

The Professor began his class by holding up a glass with some water in it. He held it up for all to see & asked the students "How much do you think this glass weighs?"

'50gms!' '100gms!' '125 gms' ...the students answered. "I really don't know unless I weigh it," said the professor, "but, my question is:

What would happen if I held it up like this for a few minutes?" 'Nothing' the students said. 'Ok what would happen if I held it up like this for an hour?' the professor asked.

"Your arm would begin to ache" said one of the student.

"You're right, now what would happen if I held it for a day?"

"Your arm could go numb; you might have severe muscle stress & paralysis & have to go to hospital for sure! Ventured another student & all the students laughed

"Very good. But during all this, did the weight of the glass change?" Asked the professor.

"No'.... was the answer.

"Then what caused the arm ache & the muscle stress?"

The students were puzzled.

"What should I do now to come out of pain?" asked professor again.

"Put the glass down." said one of the students.

"Exactly!" said the professor. Life's problems are something like this. Hold it for a few minutes in your head & they seem OK. Think of them for a long time & they begin to ache. Hold it even longer & they begin to paralyze you. You will not be able to do anything. It's important to think of the challenges or problems in your life, But EVEN MORE IMPORTANT is to 'PUT THEM DOWN' at the end of every day before you go to sleep.... That way, you are not stressed, you wake up every day fresh & strong & can handle any issue, any challenge that comes your way!

Moral: when you start your day today, Remember friend to 'PUT THE GLASS DOWN TODAY.'

Read this story twice.

(Read it very quickly the first time. Then read it again more carefully.)

Last week a friend stayed at my flat. She arrived from Switzerland on Tuesday morning, and she left London on Thursday evening.

She wanted to do some shopping on Thursday morning. Before I went to work, I left her a message. I told her to meet me at half - past five, at the newspaper stand, at Gloucester Road station. Then I would carry her luggage and shopping to the Air Terminal.

I arrived at the station on time. I went to the newspaper stand. There were lots of people at the station. At first, I could not see Marie. I put my briefcase down. Then I heard Marie's voice. 'Hello Dave!' she said. Hi Marie. I answered. We can walk to the Air Terminal from here.

I picked up her shopping. It was a big parcel. It was wrapped in brown paper. It was also very heavy!

'Can you carry my briefcase, Marie?' I asked.

'Of course.' said Marie. 'Let's go!'

We walked down the street. It was very busy. The traffic was very noisy. 'The traffic's terrible,' said Marie. 'Yes, awful!' I shouted.

'It's very kind of you to help me, Dave' said Marie.

'Oh that's all right Marie, 'I said, 'I've only got my briefcase. 'But your parcel looks very heavy!' said Marie. I stopped. 'My parcel?' I said. 'It isn't my parcel. I thought it was yours. I thought it was your shopping. 'Oh no, said Marie.

I changed my mind. I didn't do any shopping. I didn't have time. It isn't my parcel Dave, she said.

Then whose parcel is it? I said. 'I don't know!' said Marie. We both laughed. 'let's open it and look,'

She said. We opened the parcel. Inside, there were fifty copies of a French magazine, I had picked them up at the newspaper stand! We both laughed again.

We took the parcel back to the station.

'Im very sorry', I said to the newspaper seller, 'It was a mistake.'

'Look, 'he said, 'its a great magazine. Why not buy one. It will improve your French.'

I bought one of the magazines and gave it to Marie.

'Thanks', said Marie, but you keep it. I read it last week in Switzerland.

I should make a teacher
That's what I am
I do have one question
~~Don't~~ walk away
Nobody loves me
Nobody will love me
Nobody loved me
~~I~~ had had it
I love doing it
It makes me happy
I will be helped
I will be helping
~~I~~ have had it
I can cook
So do I
I am about to do it
I would like to have been a teacher
I will get to the class at 6 P.M.
I cannot but sleep
~~I~~ Cannot help sleeping
I will never do
~~He~~ is no other than my friend
What do you think of this
Do you have any voice here?
I cannot read you
It doesn't make sense
